Comparing your stats to teammates, opponents, or even league averages can be highly informative. This helps you understand your strengths relative to others and areas where you might be lagging. Remember, though, that the goal is often self-improvement, not just outperforming others.

4	Can I edit or correct errors on my MaxPreps stat sheet?	Generally, individual athletes or parents cannot directly edit stat sheets. Corrections are usually made by the official scorekeeper or athletic department representative who submits the data to MaxPreps. You'd need to contact them.
5	How does MaxPreps get its data? Is it official?	MaxPreps sources its data from official high school athletic departments and designated scorekeepers who input the stats after each game. While generally accurate, it relies on the diligence of the data entry process.
6	Is a MaxPreps stat sheet the same as an official high school transcript?	No, a MaxPreps stat sheet is purely athletic performance data. An official high school transcript details academic coursework, grades, and GPA, and is issued by the school's registrar.

7	How can college coaches use my MaxPreps stat sheet during recruitment?	Coaches use stat sheets to evaluate an athlete's performance, compare them to other recruits, identify areas of strength and weakness, and track their progression over time. It's a key piece of objective evidence.
8	What if a game I played isn't showing up on my MaxPreps stat sheet?	This usually means the stats for that game haven't been entered or submitted to MaxPreps yet by the school's athletic department. It can take a few days after the game concludes for the data to appear.
9	Are there any ways to highlight or emphasize specific achievements from my MaxPreps stat sheet?	While you can't edit the sheet itself, you can create a highlight reel using your recorded stats, mention key performances in your athletic resume or college application essays, and verbally communicate your best stats to coaches.
